Forecast For Northeast England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Tuesday 23 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
After a bright start showers will develop on Wednesday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Cloudy and windy, with some rain moving southeastwards, clearing southern areas by dawn. Clear spells, lighter winds and temperatures dropping behind the rain band, giving a frost in northern areas as winds drop out light. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Wednesday:
A chilly start with sunny spells. Cloud will build during the morning with some scattered showers soon developing. Becoming breezy and cloudy later with rain over the hills before midnight. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Thursday to Saturday:
Increasingly windy Thursday and Friday with outbreaks of rain or heavy showers. Becoming cold Friday with showers wintry over the hills. Still cold Saturday, fewer showers but heavy rain later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.